Inequality Inclusion / Exclusion Borders and Boundaries

ON MAIN ROAD

"Our lives are a battlefield on which is fought a continuous war between the forces that are pledged to confirm our humanity and those determined to dismantle it." - Ngugi Wa Thion'go

Cyril Ramaphosa Foundation presents On Main Road, a public art exhibition in commemoration of its 15th anniversary this year.

The works depict the multi-faceted forces playing themselves out in deliberate, insidious and nuanced ways in the material and psycho-social spheres of individual and communal life in contemporary South Africa.

It is against this backdrop that the Foundation's philanthropic and developmental work takes place. The themes of the exhibition relate to the purpose of the Foundation, which is to foster an inclusive, empowered society.

On Main Road, drawn from the title of a work on display, invites thoughtful interrogation of the "main road" that divides us, that connects us, and that seems to define the aspirations and terms of an inclusive society. At one extreme there is the prospect of the 4IR propelling the world to a new reality, and at the other, the grinding poverty of day-to-day survival on inner-city streets or in barren, drought-stricken landscapes.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The exhibition is curated by a collective led by Rita Potenza, and includes Anusha Lakha, Cassandra Pireu-Pilosof, Ethel Sekgethelo and Feizel Mamdoo from Cyril Ramaphosa Foundation. Catalogue Design: Büro Comrie, Catalogue Writer: Melody Emmett, Printed by Typo Printing

The some 70 works on display speak of dimensions of inclusion and exclusion, fragmentation and cohesion, of the breakdown of shared beliefs and crises in personal values. They also express aspirations to meaning, self-expression, freedom, comfort and consolation, and inter-generational relationships.

The titles of the works themselves suggest existential inquiry: Unequal Scenes, Factory, Power, Still Existence, Better Daze, Reboot, Kneeling Woman, Thoughts, Life Battle, His Space, A Dark Dream, Breaking Borders, Heavy Loads, Destroy and Rebuild, A Troubled City, Lotto, Police, Through Division, Irreplaceable, Landscape, Pink Things, Progressiveness, Legacy...

A frameless mirror allows viewers to see their own faces and perhaps to consider how they relate to the complexities and contradictions expressed by the works.

Artist Proof Studio

Artist Proof Studio (APS) was co-founded by artists Kim Berman and Nhlanhla Xaba and registered as a non-profit organisation in 1992.

APS's main goal has been to offer art education and training to enable students to become professional artists. Currently, the studio has a vibrant gallery as well as education and professional print studio spaces, which often accommodates post-graduate interns. APS hosts artists' residencies as well as exchange programs and facilitates community outreach programs. Currently the studio trains 80 to 100 students yearly in drawing, printmaking, business skills and visual literacy.

Individual artists who are presently creating waves in the art scene, such as Philemon Hlungwane, Nelson Makamo as well as Blessing Ngobeni, trained at APS. APS alumni include Walter Oltmann, Norman Catherine, Diane Victor, Gerhard Marx, Willem Boshoff, Colbert Mashile, David Koloane, Rosemary Marriott and Mmapula Mmakgoba Helen Sebidi.

Cyril Ramaphosa Foundation

15 YEARS OF DYNAMIC DEVELOPMENT MODELS

This year marks the 15th anniversary of Cyril Ramaphosa Foundation. It is cause to celebrate a meaningful record of sustained programme implementation to improve lives. The Foundation has contributed over R359 million and additionally leveraged over a billion rand through its partner entities to programmes that support the development of education, youth, small and medium enterprises, and vulnerable children and women.

The Foundation's programmes are implemented through its partner entities:

ADOPT-A-SCHOOL implements a Whole School Development model that improves the governance, academic, infrastructural, social and security environment in schools. As at February 2019 it had adopted 223 schools and benefitted 600 579 learners.

Adopt-a-School also implements the Foundation's Thari programme. Thari is a pilot programme that addresses the impact of social issues such as violence and abuse on learners and their learning outcomes. The programme provides psychosocial support for women and children and facilitates multi-sectoral networks of local organisations and services to address social challenges.

KST is a collaboration between Cyril Ramaphosa Foundation and Kagiso Trust that leverages the best practices of each organisation's Whole School Development programmes. KST implements the District Whole School Development Programme in partnership with the Free State department of education. As at February 2019, KST had worked in 240 schools and benefitted nearly 400 000 learners.

CYRIL RAMAPHOSA EDUCATION TRUST (CRET) provides bursaries for tertiary study and holistic support for students, including work experience opportunities. CRET encourages the ethos of "giving back" and develops committed civic-minded students. CRET has supported close to 250 students to access tertiary study.

BLACK UMBRELLAS develops small Black businesses through a nationwide incubation programme. Since inception in 2009, it has incubated over 1 400 small businesses that have earned a combined turnover of R2.87 billion, and created close to 12 000 jobs. Black Umbrellas' NextGen Academy is an entrepreneurship development training organisation that also aims to deliver self-sustaining reinvestments into Black Umbrellas.

The Kim Sacks Gallery and Craft Store

The Kim Sacks Gallery exhibits a contemporary mixture of rural creativity, fine-craft, cutting edge urban design, folk art - and anything that is unable to be defined by the above.

A crafts person herself, Kim Sacks represents a multitude of southern African rural and urban crafts-people and promotes the best of southern African design and fine craft.

She works with artists and crafters who exhibit internationally and are defined as designers as well as with those who make contemporary products using traditional techniques.

For Kim, what matters is the creativity that emerges from re-cycling, constructing and re-defining form and function, as well as what it means to be living in Africa at the current time.

Da Toa Toa

ARTIST: Kamal Mamdoo
TITLE: Da Toa Toa - A Tribute to the Heritage of Light
MEDIUM: MDF wood
SIZE: 90,5 x 128cm
PRICE: R3650.00 (incl. VAT)

Inspired by the Ju/'Hoansi Bushmen of the Kalahari, who looked at the position of the Da Toa Toa star (Arcturus), which means "fire finish finish", to judge how long they had for their fires to burn till sunrise.

The Da Toa Toa light is constructed from wood, which is used to make fire, and the centre piece is layered to resemble the way in which kindling is stacked when building a fire.

The work incorporates an ascending form, representing the upward motion of flames, and a curved contour illustrating ritual human dance.

Symbolically capturing the relationship between fire and community, the work also evokes a recognition of our sacred relationship to fire and its integral role in human evolution.

The Artists' Press

In 2003, Mark Attwood relocated to rural Mpumalanga where he established The Artists' Press in a purpose built studio.

The Artists' Press specialises in hand-printed limited edition lithographs. The lithographs are printed by master printers in collaboration with artists.

Lithography is a method of printing based on the principle that oil and water do not mix. Printing is done from a stone (lithographic limestone) or a metal plate with a grained surface; using oil-based inks. The artist works on a separate stone or plate for each colour. A hand printed lithograph print is an original work of art and is an image that does not exist in any other form.

The Artists' Press represents among the finest artists in South Africa who have exhibited locally and internationally.

TheUrbanative

A contemporary African furniture and product design company founded by Mpho Vackier, an engineer turned furniture designer.

TheUrbanative explores the role of culture and cultural representations in modern societies, with the aim of recounting contemporary African stories through modern furniture and product design.

Furniture and creations are differentiated by the juxtaposition of abstracted African cultural graphics, motifs, lines, forms and inspiration with the functionality and the look and feel of modern, mid-century and Bauhaus furniture silhouettes. Guiding principles are the philosophies of craft, collaboration, authenticity and design evolution for the urban native.

Dokter and Misses

Dokter and Misses, a multi-disciplinary product design company, was established in 2007 by industrial designer Adriaan Hugo and graphic designer Katy Taplin.

Their designs are modernist, with strong construction lines and bold colours that form graphic shapes and spaces. The work is conceptually smart – juxtaposed ideas that would usually clash come together to form innovative wholes.

Their hand-painted pieces form part of a growing catalogue of limited-edition collectible work that has been exhibited in Basel, Dubai, London, New York and Miami.

The Ntethelelo Foundation

The Ntethelelo Foundation is a non-profit organisation that uses theatre of the oppressed techniques and drama processes as tools to help build resilience, enable voice and create safe spaces among marginalised communities of youth, girls, young womyn and the LGBTI community. It creates opportunities for dialogue about behavioural change in the hope of fostering social change.

The Ntethelelo Foundation in collaboration with the Market Photo Workshop conducted a 6-month photography training programme with young womyn in the informal settlement of Sitjwetla, outside Alexandra Township. This was aimed at affording them the ability to present their lived experiences and hopes through visual narratives.
